Made in China

From 2010 through Dec. 17, 2012, a reported 3,243 dogs and nine cats were sickened after eating chicken jerky treats made in China, according to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration Center for Veterinary Medicine (FDA CVM). A reported 501 dogs and one cat have died as a result of eating the tainted treats. The FDA has become "aware of increasing numbers of illnesses in pets associated with the consumption of jerky pet treats" since 2007, but "no definitive cause has been determined."

Pace Veterinary Clinic recommends that you avoid feeding your pets any food that has been made in China.

Are finances holding you back from giving your pets the care and treatment they need? Consider applying for a Care Credit Card. You can use the card over and over* either for follow-up visits or to pursue the pet dentistry you've wanted. The card can also be used for the healthcare needs for you and your family.
